To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of Nashoba Learning Group, I would like to thank you for your generous gift certificates worth $95. Your commitment to helping our school grow to serve more children and families affected by autism spectrum disorder (ASD) is sincerely appreciated.

At Nashoba Learning Group (NLG) we celebrate the achievements of our students each day as they learn the skills they will need to become successful contributors to the community.

NLG strives to create the best available education programs for people with autism through:

- delivering a comprehensive curriculum, customized for each student;
- using the best teaching techniques available;
- assembling the best and most dedicated staff ever; and,
- working in partnership with each family in order to best serve the student.

In the less than 4 years we have been in existence, NLG has succeeded in taking students who were not successful in other settings and in showing that they can learn and achieve and make great strides.

Thanks to sponsors like you, our Capital Campaign has been very successful! We expect to put plans for expansion of our school into effect immediately and to begin accepting additional students by early in 2007.

With the help of your generous support, Nashoba Learning Group can make a difference in the lives of many more children with autism and their families.

Best wishes,

Elizabeth Martineau, President
